SMALL CHANGE

Our mouth is just about ready for the first strawberries.

Mr. Hine has the finest "ingun" patch we have seen. He is shipping them now.

Senator Isham G. Harris has our thanks for a copy of his great speech on the tariff commission.

The charter of the town of Bradford, in this county, was registered in the office of the Secretary of state last Thursday.

There is talk of erecting street lamps in our town. We will be glad to see it done, as will every one who has business out at night.

This week's paper has been gotten up under difficulties. The editor and the devil have both been sick and the remaining force hasn't been too well.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Haun tracked a handler of counterfeit money named Holland to Newbern last week, where he captured him and carried him to jail.

The weather turned quite cool last Monday, and continued so for several days. Fire and overcoats again came in demand. Fortunately, it was cloudy and windy, and we had no frost.

We are in receipt of the April No. of the Oriental Casket, a handsomely printed and well-edited monthly. Emerson Bennett, the great writer, is editor, and L. Lum Smith publisher, Philadelphia. Price, two dollars per annum.

Our butcher shops have recently been fitted up in handsome style for the summer. By a liberal use of framing and mosquito netting, all their fresh meats will be protected from flies, and the shops greatly improved in appearance.

Rev. J. L. Lloyd will preach his farewell sermon at the Baptist church to-morrow. There will be no service at the Methodist church, as many members desired to hear him, and pastor Taylor wished to gratify the wishes of his congregation and show this mark of respect to Dr. Lloyd at the same time.

The heaviest rain of the season fell here last Friday night—over five inches. Considerable damage was done to freshly plowed fields and gardens. The breaking of a levee flooded the garden and lot attached to the Southern Pacific, damaging the property very much. Obion river was higher than at any time this season.

A specimen copy of the Daily Christian Advocate has reached us. It contains sixteen pages, and is beautifully printed. It will be issued during the session of the General Conference in Nashville—about one month. Subscription price one dollar. We hope a large number will be taken at this office, as it will be well worth the money.

A drunken man went to several residences here last Wednesday hunting pianos to tune. To some he gave his name as Woods, from Dorman's music house, Nashville; he told others that he was a poor brother of Steinway's. He got kicked out of one house, with a warning not to come back. The last seen of him he was tramping out of town.

We prize among our best friends here Father Rankin and family and Maj. Hallstrom and his excellent wife. We give as one of the many reasons for our good-will the fact that they are always the first to send us early fruits and vegetables. Last Saturday and Sunday we feasted on magnificent lettuce, radishes and other garden delicacies contributed by them. They both have very fine gardens indeed.

In our announcement column will be found the name of M. H. Johnson, Esq., present clerk of the Humboldt law court. Mr. Johnson has filled the office acceptably, and we doubt if a better man for the place can be found. He is polite to all, attentive to business, and one of our best citizens.

Mr. E. A. Collins has begun to build a fine residence on Dickinson street, in the eastern part of town. It is to be a two story brick, with gas and water, and all other conveniences. The foundation is partly built, and he has the brick and lumber on the ground for the superstructure. We have not room nor time to give a detailed description this week, but propose soon to do so. When finished, we believe it will be the finest residence in the county, if not in West Tennessee.

Mrs. Pope & Kernan have a card in this paper, to which we invite attention. They have a handsome stock of millinery goods, and are prepared to sell very cheap. They also do millinery and dressmaking work in the most fashionable styles, guaranteeing satisfaction to their customers. We trust our readers will give them a liberal patronage, because they deserve it. Their place of business has been moved to the second house below the post office.

Robertson & Botts, who are probably more widely and favorably known in West Tennessee than almost any other firm of merchants, have just received their spring stock, and we believe we are safe in saying that there is not a handsomer or richer display of dry goods, millinery goods, notions, hats, boots and shoes, etc., in any house in the state than can be found in their two immense establishments in Jackson. Their dry goods and millinery departments are bewilderingly dazzling, and we can well see why the ladies flock there in such large numbers. All the latest styles can be found there. In the clothing house our gentlemen friends will find the nobbiest suits of the season, and at prices to suit all. We regret that we cannot give a more extended notice of this great firm. See their card.

A Mysterious Affair.

After the departure of the 12:40 south-bound train on the L. & N. road here last Thursday night, a woman went into the Southern Pacific Hotel and registered from Little Rock. She said she came from Nashville, and went south on the C., St. L. & N. O. road yesterday. She told the clerk that a railroad man, on the arrival of the train, had her to leave the cars on the opposite side from the hotel, when he knocked her down and carried her to a gully, where he attempted to outrage her person. She also claimed that she could recognize the man if she could see him again. The mysterious part of the affair is, that several men were on the platform on the arrival of the train, and we have heard of only one man who says he heard cries for help. The others say they could easily have heard her. One or two also tell us that she was under the influence of liquor. For fear we might possibly do her injustice, we suppress her name and forbear further comment.

New Millinery and Dress Goods.

Mr. & Mrs. O. H. Hallstrom have just received a large and elegant stock of the latest styles and most fashionable Dress Goods, Notions, Millinery Goods, etc., from New York and St. Louis. Call and see for yourselves. Prices to suit the times. They defy competition.

RAILWAY RACKET.

The rain last Friday night washed out the track on the L. & N. beyond Paris, delaying trains about twelve hours.

The car-hoist crew are a jolly lot. They go to work in a sing-song tone and keep it up nearly all day. And they do lots of work, too.

Supt. Mann, of the C., St. L. & N. O. road, is helping on the survey of the new Yazoo branch. Messrs. Turner and Clarke are keeping this division straight during his absence.

Weekly Call: We understand that the railroad has brought 250 darkies from "Old Firginny" to work on the road between here and Dyersburg. The C., O. & S. W. Co. intend to put the road through inside the next six weeks and a very large force is now laying the track from Dyersburg this way.

A freight car got off the track of the C., St. L. & N. O. road here last Sunday, and the wrecker had to be called in to lift it back. A prominent official remarked that it had been so long since a similar accident occurred the boys had forgotten how to replace them. The last time previous to this that the wrecker was called out was in November. This shows excellent management and competent, careful employes.

The Memphis Cotton Exchange endorsed a plan proposed by the Memphis & New Orleans Railroad and Levee Company for the protection of the Yazoo basin from overflow. The company contemplate building a line of embankment for the railroad five feet above high water mark, running along the east side of the Mississippi river from Memphis to Vicksburg, thus forming at once a levee and road bed. The Government is asked to guarantee the interest on the company's bonds.

The C. J., in noticing the increasing traffic on the L. & N., railroad system says: "Louisville, Memphis, Nashville, indeed all the cities and towns in the system, have been clamoring for cheap coal without well understanding how it was to be procured. The Louisville & Nashville, whether or not it has fully solved the problem, has taken a very important step in that direction and has arranged to put a supply of Kentucky coal in Memphis at ten cents during the summer and thirteen during the winter."

A correspondent of the Nashville American says a Mr. Hodge, representing a Bristol tobacco and cigar house, was robbed of about $20 worth of samples by the hands of a freight train on the Cincinnati Southern railroad at Kismet, last week, and the upshot of it was that the conductor, engineer and brakemen were all discharged Saturday evening and the $20 paid Mr. Hodge out of their money, as the railroad managers said they could do a better business with honest train hands than a set of thieves.

Memphis, April 7.—A bill was filed in the United States Court to-day by Lafayette county, Miss., against R. P. Neely, formerly receiver of the Mississippi Central railroad, now known as the Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans railroad. The bill asks that Neely be made to give a full account of all funds, moneys, properties, credits, earnings and profits which came into his hands while receiver, and that all moneys unlawfully turned over by him to the purchasers of the Mississippi Central road especially the sum of $25,801 paid by him to the Illinois Central, be paid into court.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. W. M. McCall left for Middle Tennessee last Friday, on a visit to relatives in Rome and Nashville.

Rev. M. M. Taylor left for Murfreesboro Wednesday morning, to attend the State Sunday-school Convention.

Mr. B. A. Enloe, editor of the Jackson Tribune and Sun, dropped in on us last Thursday for a few minutes.

W. J. House, Esq., went to Nashville this week as the representative from Liberty Lodge to the Grand Lodge Knights of Honor.

Miss Emma Tucker and Mr. Charles Kennedy, of Sharon, Tenn., are visiting the families of Mrs. E. J. Cornel and Mrs. J. B. Morris.

Dr. G. R. Gwynne Grand Generalissimo, and N. S. McKenzie, Esq., of Lebanon, honored us with a visit last Tuesday. They were enroute to Jackson, to take part in the Knight Templar conclave.

Elijah Pool, well known here, was last week arrested on a charge of larceny of money from J. & L. Whorley, in whose employment he was last year. From the newspaper statements, we judge that the handsome young man is in for a serious time. He is now in the Nashville jail.

This week's Jackson Whig published the following ament the Harrison-Caldwell marriage.

The groom, although a young man, has won laurels in his chosen profession, medicine, that older M.D's. would delight to wear. Nature richly endowed him with talent and painstaking culture and application have made him an ornament to his profession. Socially the Doctor is affable and knightly and his friends are numbered by the score. The bride is one of the acknowledged belles of Gibson county, and the beauty of her face is only a reflection of those lovely traits of character that animate and adorn her nature. The gallant Doctor and his winsome bride have the best wishes of the Whig for long and felicitous lives, with a hope that their cares shall be few and their joys innumerable.
